

May 19

The third week in May is “National Police Week.” Take a minute to reflect on the value of our police men and women. Why is their help so valuable to the community?